DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Regarding claim 1, applicant's arguments filed 9/02/05 have been fully considered but are moot in view of previous ground(s) of rejection.

Applicants argue that "It is unclear how McClure applies to Bridges. The Bridges home market area includes "many" base stations. The Bridges portable phone detects, upon initialization, whether it is in its home market area in order to decide whether to: a) stay with its current carrier, or b) search for a preferred wireless carrier. It is unclear to the present applicant how the McClure handoff procedure would have suggested modification of Bridges". However, McClure disclose "unacceptable for conversation" and "keyset to generate zone change signal" (see col.17 lines 5-16) reads on claim limitation and remedies the feature that Bridges lack of "responsive to the determination of deviation, informing, by the portable radio telephone, to a mobile switching center of said determination of deviation".

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bridges et al. (US Patent 6,148,197) in view of McClure et al. (US Patent 4,028,500).

Regarding claim 1, Bridges et al. discloses 1 home-zone location registering method for a portable radio telephone to provide a first charging rate for a telephone call made inside a predetermined home zone and a second charging rate for a telephone call made outside the home zone (see col.3 lines 30-34), the method comprising the steps of:

receiving, by the portable radio telephone, a home-zone list downloaded from a home location register (see col.7 lines 30-61), determining, by the portable radio telephone, whether the portable radio telephone deviates from the home zone to make a determination of either deviation or non-deviation from the home zone (see col.12 lines 19-21); and

Art Unit: 2684

Bridges et al. fail to disclose informing by the portable radio telephone, to a mobile switching center of said determination of deviation.

McClure disclose informing by the portable radio telephone, to a mobile switching center of said determination of deviation (see col.17 lines 6-15). Therefore, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the system of Bridges with the above teaching of McClure in order to provide a user a key press and to notify the central control terminal the "zone change"

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bridges et al. (US Patent 6,148,197) in view of Chow et al. (US Patent 6,456,839).

Regarding claim 2, Bridges fails to disclose the first charging rate corresponds to a wired telephone call rate and the second charging rate corresponds to a radio telephone call rate.

Chow discloses the first charging rate corresponds to a wired telephone call rate (see col.5 lines 15-20) and the second charging rate corresponds to a radiotelephone call rate (see col.6 lines 50-52). Therefore, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the system of

Bridges et al. with the above teaching of Chow in order to varying charging rate when the mobile roaming out of the home zone.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 3-17 allowed.

8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding independent claim 3, the prior art fails to teach "if the location registration request is received, checking whether the current position of the portable radio telephone is included in a home-zone list; upon receiving a call origination from the portable radio telephone, releasing the call origination if the portable radio telephone is deviated from the home zone", as cited in the claim.

Regarding independent claim 7, the prior art fails to teaching "a location registration message generating section coupled to the comparing section for generating a location registration message to attempt a location registration to the mobile switching center when the BTS information is not included in the home-zone list" as cited in the claim.

Regarding independent claim 12, the prior art fails to teaching "a comparing section for checking whether the portable radio telephone deviated from the home zone by comparing the home-zone list to a sector of a currently tuned base transceiver station from the signal received by the receiving section" as cited in the claim.

Regarding independent claim 15, the prior art fails to teaching "a location registration message generating section for confirming that the portable radio telephone deviates from the home zone if the pseudo noise code identical to the detected pseudo nose code does not exist in the home-zone list" as cited in the claim.
